KEYNOTE 3 - Tertiary Education: Challenges and responsibilities

22 May 2023, 4:30pm – 5:30pm (UK)

Chair: Simon Marginson

Speaker: Alis Oancea

In this keynote, Alis will reflect on the challenges faced by tertiary ecosystems over the next decade - at global, regional, national and local scales - and on the possibilities open for addressing these challenges not just efficiently, but also responsibly. She will consider ongoing calls for change in education and training, exchange and engagement, and research and innovation, before focusing more closely on the latter pair. She will conclude with an argument for principled policy and practice that arises from efforts to understand the risks, power inequalities and potential for divergent interpretations in different contexts, in order to articulate positive meanings, identify generative actions and encourage configurations of responsible thinking and associated agency and capability.
