

Repurposing University Education: The Role of Liberal Arts Education in Asia

10 January 2023

00:42:00 Celia Whitchurch: Arising from CGHE Project 3.2, apparent that academics in Humanities subjects encouraging postgraduate students to move away from lone scholar model and think about real world problems and develop transferable skills in collaboration with colleagues in adjacent areas - this is likely to affect career paths

00:51:42 James Robson: Do start adding you questions for Professor Mok here

01:05:45 James Robson: Do post your questions here

01:07:15 Jan McArthur: Thank you for an excellent presentation. Thought provoking.

01:07:21 LI Juan-LU: Thanks Prof. Mok!

01:07:40 Jeyaraj John Sekar: Excellent talk; congratulations, Prof Mok

01:07:56 Mohammod Roshid: A comprehensive presentation. Thank you

01:08:04 Bernard Lee: Thanks a lot for your interesting presentation, Prof. Mok!

01:10:39 Peihua LI: Thank you, Prof. Mok. Insightful ideas and so inspiring.

01:12:11 Jocelyn Krauss: Thank you very much for this presentation; I appreciated the mentions of a caring society and service-learning especially. I'm wondering how Lingnan University is able to incorporate student entrepreneurship programming into its liberal arts focus — is entrepreneurship training mainly extra-curricular? How has it been built out? (And, any reactions from employers on student participation in entrepreneurship programmes?)

01:14:52 CGHE Webinars: Thank you for joining us today. A recording of this session will be posted on the CGHE site: <https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/repurposing-university-education-the-role-of-liberal-arts-education-in-asia/>

01:14:55 ANAN CHEN: Thank you Professor Mok for the presentation! I got one question regarding the internationalisation of higher education. Do you have any policy recommendation for universities in mainland China when most of the cities in China are not as international as Hong Kong?

01:15:10 CGHE Webinars: Our next webinar, 'Resilience, flexibility, and normativity: rethinking the role of the Humanities in the economy', will take place on Thursday from 2pm (UK). You can register here: <https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/resilience-flexibility-and-normativity-rethinking-the-role-of-the-humanities-in-the-economy/>

01:16:25 Charito Pizarro: Thank you very much, Prof. Mok. I like especially your definition of entrepreneurship.

01:19:29 Victorița Trif: Thank you!

01:19:30 Baohua Yu: Thank you, Prof Mok, for such a timely and inspiring presentation. It's also encouraging to witness that Lingnan is playing an important role in promoting liberal arts education.

01:20:07 LI Juan-LU: Thanks you all!