

'Higher education and knowledge in Latin America past, present and future' series – webinar 3: Internationalisation and student mobility in Latin American higher education, 7 July 2022

00:49:17 Simon Marginson: It is time to think about your questions and statements for the discussion part of the webinar. Bring your ideas forward in the Chat now.

00:52:06 Leandro Rodriguez Medina: Fantastic presentation, Carolina. I was wondering whether you have some hypothesis to explain the decline of collaboration with US colleagues? I think there you have a nice topic to follow up on the international collaboration through coauthorship.

00:52:56 JB Meyer: Thx for both impressive présentations! 1- IaH is promising Indeed, Argentina 's case is also impressive with regards to that; 2- for SS&H, isn't there a linguistic bias? LA regional institutions for cooperation?

00:57:21 Andrea Detmer: Thank you very much for your presentations.

I'd like to ask your views about the public policy of research funding and its responsibility in boosting the scientific- social impact tension mentioned by Kyria. What is going on with the (scientific) 'impact' agenda in Latam?

00:57:50 William Machaca: Thank you for both presentations; very insightful, indeed. How does the dichotomy collaboration-competition referred in the first presentation relate to the low collaboration within LATAC mentioned in the second one?

00:59:22 Leandro Rodriguez Medina: Thank you a lot for your answer, Carolina. Look forward to your new research!!!

01:00:02 Carolina Guzman Valenzuela: Thank you Leandro!

01:05:10 Maria Massaccesi: Thanks both for your presentations! I lead the Universities UK International work with Latin America, would be great to have your contact information for further collaboration, thanks!

01:12:33 Annette Insanally: Very informative session. Thank you very much.

01:13:02 CGHE Webinars: Our next webinar will be the final one in this special series. 'Epistemic injustice, decolonisation and the potentials of intercultural education', will take place on Tuesday. You can register here: <https://www.researchcghe.org/events/cghe-seminar/higher-education-and-knowledge-in-latin-america-past-present-and-future-series-webinar-4-epistemic-injustice-decolonisation-and-the-potentials-of-intercultural-education/>

01:14:40 JB Meyer: Thx very much Kira & Carolina + Simon : great session and présentations !

01:15:24 Andrea Detmer: Thanks very much Kyria and Carolina for sharing your thoughts. Interesting to see the diverse mechanisms shaping this situation!

01:15:37 Asia Neupane: Thank you so much, Kira and Carolina. This was a really great session. Gracias y obrigada.

01:16:14 ANDREA WEHRLI: Thanks Kyria & Carolina for your very interesting talks and Simon for hosting this wonderful session! Kind regards from Switzerland

01:23:36 Alejandra Valverde: Thank you very much for the presentation! I am writing from the Ministry of Education of Peru. From my experience, I do think that including the taught of languages as english in the basic education is key in creating conditions for having a higher education capable of producing publications.
